

The Tiger Class Newsletter
January 23rd-January 27th, 2012
Monday-Friday

This week the Tiger Class has been learning about their colors. Each day we focused on a different color.

Monday was Red Day
Tuesday was Green Day
Wednesday was Blue Day
Thursday was Yellow Day
Friday was Orange Day

We have made jello each day that went with the color of the day. We also wore clothes that were the same as the color of the day. We finger painted using the color of the day. The children found items around the classroom that were the color of the day.

On Monday morning, we went to the school-wide Havdalah service in the indoor playroom.

We went to Secular Music with Miss Beth. We had a great time singing and dancing.

The children and Miss Beth using their gross motor skills to walk like cats, for a song she was singing.

We also did a language chart on “What is your favorite color?”

Foster said, “pink”
Dylan said, “blue”
Esther said, “purple”
Brooks said, “blue”
Celeste said, “purple”

On Tuesday, we used our fine motor skills and painted with green finger paint.

We look great in green!

On Wednesday, we made blue jello. The children learned a lot about science while we were making jello. They learned that jello is a liquid when it is first made and after it is in the refrigerator for a couple of hours it turns into a solid. They also learned that jello (powder) dissolves when you mix it with hot water.

On Wednesday, we went to gym with Miss Alisa. We did several yoga positions and played pillow polo. We had a great time.

On Thursday, we finger painted using yellow paint. We used our math skills to sort items by color and we counted how many items we had.

On Friday, we will celebrate Shabbat in the Wasley Chapel. Dylan will be the Malach. Thanks for the delicious snacks.

Reminders:

Don't miss the opportunity to meet Sylvia Rouss on Sunday, February 19th. She will be here at Temple Torah from 10:00am to noon. She is the award winning author of the Sammy Spider books.

We collect Campbell Soup labels. A list of all the different products that count went home a couple of weeks ago. You can send in labels in your child's communication folder.

With the cooler weather, you may want to send in an extra pair of long pants to keep in your child's extra clothes in case they have an accident or spill something on a cool day.

Shabbat Shalom!!!
