

The Polar Bear and Tiger Classes Newsletter
October 24th-October 28th, 2011
Monday-Friday

The Polar Bear and Tiger Class have been very busy this week.

On Monday morning we went to the school-wide Havdalah service in the indoor playroom.

We came back to our classroom and started making the dough for the challah that we made with Sammy Spider.

Brooks cracking an egg.

Linoy getting water for our recipe.

Emma sifting flour.

Celeste patting the dough.

Spencer and his dad getting ready to braid their challah.

Noah and his dad with their braided challah.

Sammy with our baked challah.
YUM!!!
We also read Sammy Spider's First Day of School.

Morah Megan reading.

On Tuesday, we had Sammy Spider in our class all day. We voted on changing his eye color and mouth.

Aiden with Sammy Spider.
We voted on black eyes and the red and white mouth.

Sammy the Spider dancing with the Polar Bear and Tiger classes.

We also used our fine motor skills and colored pictures of where we would want to go with Sammy Spider.

Some of the answers were the beach, Monkey Joe's, dinner with Mommy, school, the pool, the doctor's office.

We are going to make a book out of our pictures and we are going to put it in Sammy's suitcase.

On Wednesday, we used our gross motor skills to play kickball and jump and do yoga positions with Miss Alisa.

Esther doing the airplane yoga position.

Aaron kicking the ball.

We went to Judaic music in the Wasley Chapel with Cantor Zach.

Taylor singing with Cantor Zach.

We also used our fine motor skills to paint egg cartons that we are going to make into spiders.

Emmalyn painting her spider.

On Thursday, we are going to go to secular music with Miss Beth. We are going to put eyes and legs on our spiders. We are going to use our gross motor skills on the playground to run, ride bikes, climb the rock wall, slide down slides and kick balls.

On Friday, we will celebrate Shabbat.

Please remember to send in old cell phones and empty ink cartridges.

Please send in Campbell soup labels. We get points and can purchase items for our school with these points.

Our school will be closed on Friday, November 4th as a Teacher professional growth day.

Thursday, November 10th will be Pajama Night in the indoor playroom. Look for a flyer with all the information.

Friday, November 11th will be Grandparents Shabbat. The entire school will celebrate together in the main sanctuary. Make sure to RSVP for this event.

Shabbat Shalom!!!
