Welcome Temple Emeth
Dear Adult Ed Participants,

Jews are known as the People of the Book. We love to learn. Dangle a book, Kindle or Nook in front of us and our eyes widen with gleeful anticipation.

Temple Shaarei Shalom and Temple Torah are celebrating the third year of our collaboration. We welcome Temple Emeth to the partnership as once again, we offer a variety of challenging and exciting classes on religious, cultural and secular topics, taught/facilitated by our clergy and other scholars.

Our 2014-2015 season explodes with 29 courses; 11 Wednesday lectures; 3 distinguished lectures, and Israeli movies on designated Saturday nights. We are fortunate to have several Rabbis and Cantors in our congregations who are happy to share their expertise with us: Rabbis Agin, Bernstein, Cohen, Fratello, Kamens, Marder, Shanken and Zelermyer, as well as Cantors Mondrow and Ovadia. We have many returning teachers and lecturers and several new teachers.

You will delight in our new classes which include many new stimulating topics: Hebrew, Israeli Dancing, Midrash, Today's Technologies, Jewish Thought, Pearls of Yiddish and Cooking.

Most morning classes will be held at Temple Torah and afternoon classes will be held at Temple Shaarei Shalom. Please check the syllabus for any exceptions. The Wednesday lectures will be held at Temple Torah and the distinguished lectures will be held at both Temples. You are invited to bring a dairy lunch to Rabbi Fratello's classes.

Please review the courses and lectures listed in this Adult Education booklet. We are sure that you’ll find something you will love attending. We are looking forward to another great year as we learn together.

B’shalom,

Miriam Schaffer RJE, Education Director, Temple Shaarei Shalom
Alan Schoen, Co-Chairperson, Temple Torah
Marlene Magness, Co-Chairperson, Temple Torah
Janet Taubin, Co-Chairperson
Forging Meaningful Jewish Connections in a Digital Age

Temple Torah Clergy: Rabbi Edward C. Bernstein, Rabbi Gerald Zelermeyer, Cantor Zachary Mondrow

Temple Shaarei Shalom Clergy: Rabbi Anthony Fratello, Cantor Judith Ovadia

Thursday, November 13, 7:30 pm
At Temple Shaarei Shalom
Free and Open to the Public

We have more "Friends" than ever before, but does that mean we have more relationships? We strive for as many "Likes" as possible, but does that translate to meaningful acceptance? We have grown accustomed to communicating in 140 characters or less, but is that enough to get our messages across? Technology has transformed our world in a way unseen since the time of the Industrial Revolution, but what does that mean for the Jewish Community?

In the official kickoff to our joint Adult Education program this year, we will explore the possibilities and the pitfalls of our brave new world. How can we harness the power of new technology to teach the eternal truths of Judaism? And, more importantly, how do we ensure that the lure of the next big thing will not irrevocably warp 3000 years of History and Culture.
Adult Education Courses

MONDAYS (continued)

Intermediate Prayer Book and Biblical Hebrew, Marilyn Silberman
Are you interested in: exploring the meaning of key Shabbat prayers; gaining a vocabulary of a few hundred Hebrew prayer words; learning 20 key Hebrew “roots” associated with Siddur Hebrew; studying the grammatical structure of the prayers for better comprehension of the prayer in its original Hebrew and its relevance to Jewish values, then this is the class for you. Pre-requisite: the ability to read Hebrew.
Additional Book Fee.
Dates: December 1, 8, 15, 22; January 5, 12, 19, 26; February 2, 9
Time: 1:30 pm
Location: Temple Shaarei Shalom

Jewish Themed MOVIES, Rabbi Kamens
  - East of Eden: Elia Kazan's masterful adaptation of John Steinbeck's bold novel. James Dean is at his moody, alarming self. The classic version of a modern Cain and Abel movie brings us great performances from Julie Harris, Raymond Massey, and Burl Ives.
  - The Frisco Kid: Gene Wilder and a very young Harrison Ford are one feisty team as rabbi and rescuer in this romp that rivals Wilder's earlier "Blazing Saddles" in Wild West hilarity.
Dates: December 8; January 12; February 9; March 9
Time: 1:00 pm
Location: Temple Shaarei Shalom

Let There Be Light, Rabbi William Marder
A study and discussion of the uses of Light in Jewish tradition.
Session 1: Shabbat candles - symbolism, origins, practices, Havdalah and its light
Session 2: Hanukkah lights - candles and oil - what was the miracle? - what was dedicated?
Session 3: Ner Neshamah - the yahrzeit candle - origins and symbolism
Session 4: The Ner Tamid - origins, role of community
Dates: January 5, 12, 19, 26
Time: 10:30 am
Location: Temple Torah

TUESDAYS

Beyond Aleph Bet, Wilma Turk
This class is for those who have had primary contact with the Hebrew alphabet and feel they need more practice on a basic level to be able to read more fluidly.
Dates: October 21, 28; November 4, 11, 18, 25; December 2, 9, 16, 23, 30; January 6, 13, 20, 27; February 3, 10, 17, 24; March 3, 10, 17, 24
Time: 6:00 pm
Location: Temple Torah
D’varim-Understanding the Book of Deuteronomy, Fran Townes
Read and analyze this book of the Torah line by line using an English translation from the Stone Tanach. Students are asked to bring in other translations and commentaries to add to the discussion of the text.

Dates: October 21, 28; November 4, 11, 18, 25; December 2, 9, 16, 23, 30; January 6, 13, 20, 27; February 3, 10, 17, 24; March 3, 10, 17, 24
Time: 2:30 pm
Location: Temple Shaarei Shalom

Introduction to Talmud, Rabbi Edward C. Bernstein
Judaism, as we know it today, exists because of the Babylonian Talmud, the great repository of rabbinic law, lore and theology. In Jewish communities around the world, Talmud study is critical to a classical Jewish education. The first tractate of Talmud, Berachot, lays out the blueprint for Jewish liturgy. Last year we explored the Sh’m a as a cornerstone of Jewish prayer. Rabbi Bernstein’s class will now focus on the Amidah, the other central pillar of Jewish prayer. All are welcome--no previous Talmud study required for participation. Hebrew decoding capability is helpful but not necessary. Students are encouraged to bring their own text of any edition. Rabbi Bernstein will be teaching from the Koren Steinsaltz Tractate Berakhot, available through all major book sellers. Talmud text and translation will be projected onto a large screen for each class.

Dates: October 21, 28; November 4, 11, 18, 25; December 2, 9, 16, 23, 30; January 6, 13, 20, 27; February 3, 10, 17, 24; March 3, 10, 17, 24
Time: 10:30 am
Location: Temple Torah (no charge for this class)

An In-Depth Look at Midrash, Rabbi Anthony Fratello
Mechilta de Rabbi Ishmael: This collection of Midrashim, traditionally attributed to Rabbi Ishmael, takes a long hard look at the Book of Exodus. Of particular interest is discussion of the various laws and legends related to the Exodus from Egypt. Moses! Ten Commandments! Golden Calf! Mechilta has got it all! Feel free to bring a dairy lunch to this class.

Dates: October 21, 28; November 4, 11, 18, 25; December 2, 9, 16, 23, 30; January 6, 13, 20, 27; February 3, 10, 17, 24; March 3, 10, 17, 24
Time: 12:00 pm
Location: Temple Shaarei Shalom (no charge for this class)

Sacred Books of the Jews, Richard Townes
Judaism is the most book intoxicated of all the world's great faiths. For over 3,000 years we added book after book. This course will survey this library from Genesis to the Siddur and attempt to acquaint the student with the books. For those whose familiarity goes no further than the Chumash of Shabbat morning services, we plan to share a new look at our common heritage.

Dates: October 21, 28; November 4, 11, 18, 25; December 2, 9, 16, 23, 30; January 6, 13, 20, 27; February 3, 10, 17, 24; March 3, 10, 17, 24
Time: 1:30 pm
Location: Temple Shaarei Shalom
TUESDAYS (continued)

L'eila L'eila: An Introduction to Liturgy, Cantor Zachary Mondrow
Explore the insides of our liturgical prayers, what the prayers mean, and how they came to be. Gain a better understanding of the structure of our services. We will focus on weekday and Shabbat services, as well as some of the major highlights of the High Holy Days and Festivals.
Dates: November 4, 11, 18, 25; December 2, 9, 16, 23, 30; January 6, 13, 20, 27
Time: 9:30 am
Location: Temple Torah (no charge for this class)

Beethoven’s Ninth Symphony, Stuart Bailin
Beethoven composed his ninth and last symphony in 1823 and 1824. It was the companion or sister piece to his 'Missa Solemnis' completed in 1822 and presented to Archduke Rudolph in 1823. The symphony, also known as the 'Choral' symphony, was the first in which a 'choral' section was included. No symphony composed had used voices before this one. The message of the ninth is powerful. Love, the brotherhood of man and peace on earth were its major themes. He dedicated the piece to King Fredrick William III. Had Beethoven only composed the 'ninth symphony' and nothing else in his lifetime, he would have still been immortalized.

Jewish Superstitions-Silly, Sensor or Serious, Rabbi Dr. Charles Agin
There was a time in the history of the Jews, when every sign and gesture - an itch, a shadow, a dream, a sneeze - was a portent, a sign of things to come or something to avoid. Yes, for centuries, magic and superstition had a home in Judaism. Jews believed in and practiced it. Do you? Join us for a fascinating discussion.

<td>History of Cardiac Surgery, Dr. Stanton Polin&lt;br&gt;Medicine has evolved from the era when few people died of heart disease because there were so many more dominant medical problems. Medical diligence eradicated or diminished these diseases. People now live long enough to develop heart disease, partly because we abuse our bodies and lead bad life styles. Fortunately over the course of the last 50 years doctors are learning new ways to combat this number one killer. We will trace the history of the pioneering efforts to eradicate heart problems and to definitively correct those that still occur.</td>

The Golden Age of Jewish Humor, Stephen Z. Cohen, PhD
Join us for a heimishe and engaging afternoon that’s both intellectual and entertaining. Best described as a humorist rather than a comedian, Dr. Cohen is most often compared to Myron Cohen and Sam Levenson. Come laugh and reminisce as he explores Jewish life from shtetl times through the “golden age” of Jewish humor in America. With his inimitable telling of classical jokes and stories along with his insightful commentary, it’s not just funny... it’s smarter than that!

Date: January 11, 2015
Time: 1:30 pm
Location: Temple Shaarei Shalom

“A Journey to Golda’s Balcony”, Rabbi Janie Grackin
Join Rabbi, Storyteller and Jewish Educator Janie Grackin on a journey of remembrance and discovery as we explore the life and times of Israeli stateswoman and heroine, Golda Meir. Travel with us through the most harrowing and dramatic period of Israel’s history during the Yom Kippur War. Golda Meir, Prime Minister of Israel, faced extraordinary tension and worldwide pressures forcing her, as Israel’s leader, to make decisions no one wants to make! Extraordinary film interviews and group discussion. Video documentary starring Tony nominated Tova Feldshuh and narrated by Alec Baldwin. Don’t miss this event!

Date: February 8, 2015
Time: 1:30 pm
Location: Temple Shaarei Shalom

Rabbi Grackin is a Storyteller and Jewish Community Educator. Rabbi Janie creates programs for intergenerational populations in synagogues and schools throughout the United States, Europe and Israel. In 1997 she was inducted into the National Women’s Hall of Fame for her commitment to AIDS education and was awarded the Solomon Schechter Gold Award for Family Education, as well as numerous other educational awards.

Peace among Jews: From Destructive Conflict to Argument for the Sake of Heaven, Rabbi Amy Eilberg
Everyone’s heard the joke: Two Jews, Three Opinions. We know that Jews are a contentious people, and we kind of like it this way. Yet today, many Jewish leaders believe that we are engaged in the rhetorical equivalent of civil war with one another, particularly in our discourse about Israel. In this session we will explore why the rhetorical dynamics in the Jewish community are so contentious and destructive, and learn from traditional Jewish teachings about conducting our debates in a more constructive and sacred way.

Date: February 22, 2015
Time: 1:30 pm
Location: Temple Torah

Rabbi Amy Eilberg is the first woman ordained as a Conservative rabbi by the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. After many years of work in pastoral care and hospice, Rabbi Eilberg now serves as a spiritual director, directs interfaith dialogue programs in Minneapolis/St. Paul, MN, and teaches at United Theological Seminary of the Twin Cities and St. Catherine University.
